Bulgaria In State of War

London, Sept. 24.—A state of war has been declared by the government in Bulgaria as a consequence of Communist riots, says a Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Sofia.

Communist Surrender
Sofia, Sept. 24.—The general situation in Bulgaria shows a marked improvement. A few isolated cases of rebellion are still being reported, but these are regarded as unimportant. Troops supported by the population have restored order in certain villages of the Kozanlyk region where a soviet regime was declared.

A band of fifty Communists which had been active in the south of Kozanlyk fled into the mountains where it finally surrendered. The two chiefs committed suicide and their men gave up their arms.

To Overthrow Government
Paris, Sept. 24.—A Havas dispatch from Sofia says the present insurrection in Bulgaria is spreading and gathering strength. One hundred thousand peasants, a majority of whom are armed and fairly well organized, are marching on Sofia in an attempt to overthrow the government.

The dispatch adds that the cabinet sat throughout Saturday night. It was presided over by King Boris. Two regiments have been dispatched against the oncoming peasants, who are reported to have halted in the face of rifle fire.

Paris, Sept. 25.—A delayed message from Sofia says the Havas agency dated yesterday, reads:
"The Bulgarian government after resigning, has been reconstituted with the same members except Minister of Justice Smiloff. The national Liberal party to which former Premier Radoslawoff belonged, is no longer represented in the ministry."

Revolt in Full Flame
London, Sept. 25.—The revolution in Bulgaria has burst into full flame and the whole country is in the hands of rebels, according to a dispatch to the Morning Post from Plovdiv Monday.

The dispatch adds that Sofia is blockaded. King Boris has offered to resign but his offer has not been accepted.

Canada's Premier Off For England
Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Premier King left here early this morning on his way to the imperial conference and the economic conference in London. His special car was attached to a Canadian Pacific train for Montreal. He was accompanied to Montreal by his secretary.

Dinner at Quebec
Montreal, Sept. 21.—Rt. Hon. MacKenzie King, premier of Canada, arrived in Montreal this morning and soon left for Quebec where he is entertained at dinner this evening by the Garrison club and will then board the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm.

Message to Lloyd George Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Before leaving for Quebec last night on route to the imperial conference, Premier King sent a cablegram to the Rt. Hon. Lloyd George expressing regret that he would not be able to see the premier during the latter's visit to Canada next month. Mr. King invited Mr. Lloyd George to the hospitality of the government at an official dinner to be given when he arrived at the capital. Premier King also expressed the hope that he would see Mr. Lloyd George in London in November.

Alberta Average Nearly 33 Bus.
Calgary, Sept. 22.—Very little cutting remains to be done in the province as a whole, and especially in the southern part. Ripe crops everywhere appear to have been harvested. In the southern part of the province all crops are cut while in the north only green feed remains standing.

Wheat taken as a whole will average more than 30 bushels an acre, the general yield being given as around 35 bushels and this is estimated from the threshing which has been done. This, according to reports, has not reached any considerable proportions. Cattle are running around 50 bushels an acre.

There is still quite a large amount of stocking to be done, and help is scarce in some districts. Threshing gangs also find it hard to secure the necessary help, and the work is held up as a result. But farmers are very optimistic, as damage reported from frost and other causes is practically nil.

WELL DIGGING
Sill & Riford wish to announce that they are prepared to drill wells in this vicinity at reasonable prices. Apply to S. V. Sill, next door to Provincial Police headquarters, Macleod.

7.30 p.m.—Evensong.

Thanksgiving services will be held in Christ Church on Sunday, October 14th. Offerings of grain, vegetables, etc., will be welcome, and may be left at the Rectory.

The record of every coal strike since coal strikes became fashionable diseases after each of these ceremonies, whether an increase in wages is granted or not, the operator cuts another large piece of pie for himself.

A Macleod man expects a slump in motor cars. He says that nearly everybody who should not have bought one has already done so.

You can't depend on them. We have frequently seen newspaper headlines that did not conflict with the body of the article.

Child Had A Narrow Escape

The pathetic story of the disappearance of the eight-year-old child of Mrs. Montgomery, passenger on the east bound train from Cranbrook Thursday morning, and of her later recovery out of the inky blackness of the early morning by the crew of a special train sent back from Macleod, is the subject of general discussion today in local railway circles. The incident is one of those strange occurrences that frequently happen in the annals of railroading in which providential escapes are recorded.

It is recalled that a similar incident happened near Calgary some years ago, when a lady, known to be slightly deranged mentally, in some way disappeared from moving train. She was later found at the bottom of a cutbank only slightly injured.

The Montgomery boy was only slightly hurt. She was badly shaken up and suffered a cut across the forehead. The attending physician reported that she could have been released yesterday, but he kept her at the hospital for another day to make sure that no mistake could be made.

Passenger on the train from this city tell of the consternation and excitement that followed the disappearance of the child. "The mother was naturally distraught and in her frantic efforts to find the child aroused the whole train. Not a trace could be found of her. The mental anguish of the mother was extremely pitiful as the train moved on through the night. Later, on arriving in Lethbridge, we learned that the child had been picked out of the darkness some miles west of Macleod, and I am sure every passenger on the train will rejoice over the miraculous escape," said one passenger today.

"I fell off the train, and I lost my mind," was the choking exclamation of the child, great tears rolling down her cheeks, as she ran to her rescuers.

And that is all the explanation she can give. The theory is that the tot of the water fountain, got her drink and in the confusion following her sudden awakening from sleep took the opposite way. This took her outside the car, and she was either thrown off the car or stepped off into the darkness, bounced and rolled out of danger.

The hour of terror passed by the tot, alone in the darkness, her mother on the train thundering away into the night, is one of the darkest moments in her life from real life that will never be described.

Opening of the 1923-24 term of the School of Agriculture at Claresholm, Alberta, will take place on October 30th, and will continue till March 28.

It is hoped that a larger number of farmers than ever will be able to send their sons and daughters to this school during the coming winter. The courses which are provided in Agriculture and Domestic Science, are given free of charge, and are of the most practical nature, calculated to fit the students for their future life on the farm, and of their responsibilities as citizens.

No requirements are asked of the students entering these courses, in the way of educational standing, save the ability to read and write and to make use of what they learn. The courses are of two years' duration, with terms of five months each, arranged especially for the convenience of the boys and girls on the farm. The minimum age of entrance is 16.

The course in agriculture lays emphasis on animal and field husbandry, including practice in gas engineering, blacksmithing and carpentry. There is also instruction in Agricultural physics, chemistry, bacteriology, farm management and bookkeeping, mathematics and English. Entomology and botany are also taught.

The two year course in domestic science affords opportunity for the young women of the province to train in the economic management of the home. Instruction is given in the following subjects: Cooking, Chemistry, English, Foods, Nursing, Horticulture, Household Administration, Laundry, Mathematics, Physical Culture, Poultry, Sanitation, Sewing and Textiles.

A well-equipped dormitory is provided for the women students at the Claresholm School, under the supervision of the School Officials, where board and room can be obtained at about $25 to $32 a month.

The return railway fares of students residing in the districts previously served by the Raymond and Gleichen School of Agriculture, will be paid to the Claresholm School of Agriculture by the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Those desiring information should write the Principal, Claresholm School of Agriculture, or the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

GERMAN PROPOSALS About Wheat Pool Will Be ARE OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED

Berlin, Sept. 20.—Detailed terms of the cabinet's decision to abandon passive resistance in the Ruhr, were eagerly awaited here today as the government struggled to maintain a united front inside the nation.

It was considered likely the reichstag will be summoned to convene towards the end of next week. When it does convene verbal fireworks over the Ruhr, currency and other topics are expected.

From details already available it was already known the new effort has a decidedly capitulative spirit. Chancellor Stresemann no longer insists on immediate restoration of German control of the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

Cannot Continue
The cabinet in its offer through the Belgian ambassador naturally avoided the term "capitulation," but there can be no question of the substance of the decision for it was held impossible to continue passive resistance either fully or partly for any length of time. Hence resistance must stop regardless of the outcome of the latest negotiations.

It was hoped a reply to the terms transmitted through the Belgium representative might be received today but this does not mean that any official statement will be issued either on the full details of the German proposal or the Franco-Belgian reaction.

The cabinet was told plainly at its session yesterday that the situation was even more precarious than most of them had been led to believe.

Brussels, Sept. 21.—It was officially confirmed today that Chancellor Stresemann of Germany has made concrete proposals for evacuation of the Ruhr to the Belgian minister, Count De La Fille, at Berlin.

This information was carried exclusively by the British United Press on Wednesday night, four hours before it was semi-officially confirmed by the German government.

London, Sept. 21.—Reporters of the impending collapse of passive resistance in the Ruhr continued to be given much prominence in the London papers.

The commentators are puzzled by the absence of authoritative information respecting the meetings of the premiers in Paris, and take up much space in morning papers in renewed speculation as to the precise meaning of the official statement issued in Paris Wednesday night.

Some men we know are not satisfied with being treated well—they want to be treated often.

Another that it means exactly what it says, and so on.

Unconditional Surrender
Berlin, Sept. 25.—Chancellor Stresemann announced last night that the government had decided to abandon passive resistance in the Ruhr and Rhineland immediately and unconditionally and has ordered resumption of activities in all lines at once.

The government's decision is not made conditional on the previous return of deportees or the release of imprisoned nationals, these and other disputed points being left to subsequent negotiations with the occupying powers.

Appeal Dismissed In Henker vs Creelman & Co.

Calgary, Sept. 23.—There is no apparent reason at the present time why the Alberta wheat pool should not be actively in operation and in a position to receive wheat from shippers to its contract within two or three weeks, now that finances and elevator facilities are practically arranged for, says a dispatch from the provincial board of seven trustees of the pool, and now in charge of pool headquarters, said today.

Private elevator interests have also been approached and it is believed many companies will come in on the arrangements suggested by the Alberta Pacific and United Grain companies which is along the lines on which wheat was handled by the wheat board in 1919.

This will mean that the pool will have the use of much more than fifty per cent of the elevator storage space in the province, as the A. P. G. and U. G. alone control approximately fifty per cent of the elevators.

John I. McFarland, president and general manager of the Alberta Pacific and United Grain Company, said yesterday that his company will handle pool and non-pool wheat indiscriminately.

No Announcement From Peg
Winnipeg, Sept. 25.—Negotiations continued here Monday between representatives of the Alberta wheat pool and representatives of the private elevator and financial interests, but no announcement regarding their progress was made by participants of the conference.

Calgary, Sept. 24.—As the result of negotiations which have been pending for some time, the trustees of the wheat pool announced that the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, as well as the United Grain Growers, have offered the use of their whole line of elevators in Alberta to the pool.

The terms submitted by the Alberta Pacific Grain Company and the U. G. are practically similar, following generally the arrangements made between the elevator companies and the wheat board in 1919.

Negotiations are now pending in Winnipeg with other elevator operators in Alberta.

The trustees feel that the elevator problem has been very greatly advanced by the action of these two companies.

REFUSED TO ALLOW LEGISLATORS TO MEET

Oklahoma City, Sept. 24.—Oklahoma's "rebel" legislators were dispersed by the military at noon today when they attempted to convene a special session of the lower house to seek the impeachment of Governor J. C. Walton.

There was no violence or bloodshed at the capital were not by clubs and side arms. Men carried a service rifle. The law officers were permitted to enter the building easily.

About one hundred armed men surrounded the grounds.

Legislators surrounded the streets leading to the capital.

Manitoba Now Selling Liquor

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—Hard liquor officially went on sale in Manitoba today, through the government commission, at prices which are substantially higher than those charged in British Columbia and Quebec. The system by which all purchases are delivered to the address of the permit holder is held responsible for the higher prices. Beer has been on sale to permit holders for two weeks, deliveries being made by the brewers.

A "temporary price list" issued today by the commission includes only a few brands of Scotch and rye whiskeys, one brand of rum and several of port and sherry. Scotch is listed at $4.50 to $6.00 in 25-ounce bottles, $5.50 to $6.50 a case, and at $7.00 to $7.75 in 40-ounce bottles, or $7.50 to $8.50 a case. Rye is sold at $4.50 to $4.90 a bottle and rum in 40-ounce bottles at $5.95. Port will cost $2.55 to $3.00 and sherry $2.00 to $2.50.

The commission has no stores in the case of British Columbia and Quebec, but only a warehouse and various offices which receive written orders. Deliveries are being made on contract at present, the commission having decided against establishing its own delivery system at present. Forts in Prairie, and Brandon and Branch offices are being opened at later in other towns.

Tourists are entitled to secure permits and to have deliveries made to their temporary dwelling places.

FAMOUS ROSARY IN "BELLA DONNA"

Pola Negri Wears Historic Ornament in First American-Made Photoplay

Carved with a dagger from black ebony and amber, a Mohammedan rosary of authentic origin and colorful history serves as an important ornament and "prop" in Pola Negri's first American-made Paramount picture, "Bella Donna," which will be on view at the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

The rosary is the property of Dudley Stuart Corlett, an Egyptologist who served as technical director during the filming of this Paramount picture. Captain Corlett spent ten years in Egypt, an dthe rosary was secured by him while in Somaliland. Representing native workmanship at its best, the rosary was the personal property of a retainer of the famous "Mad Mullah" of the Abyssinian border. For his participation in one of the most dramatic expeditions of the century, the owner was sentenced to death. On the eve of his execution he presented the rosary to its present owner.

Most Christian people regard the rosary as a distinctively Christian institution, but its origin dates back to the prayer beads of the early Hindu and Buddhist philosophies.

The Mohammedan rosary consists of ninety-nine beads, each representing one of the ninety-nine attributes of God is known only to the Imam of Constantinople, official head of the sect.

POLA NEGRI ACTS WITH HER HANDS

Beautiful Star of "Bella Donna" Knows How to Employ Patience

"Say it with hands."
That is Pola Negri's own role alone in which the famous Polish star threatens to make the fashion in screen pantomime. For Pola believes in expressing just as many emotions as possible with her hands. It is a heritage from her stage pantomime work and she uses it repeatedly in her first American-made Paramount picture, "Bella Donna," which will be the feature at the Empress Theatre for two days beginning Monday, next.

Second only to the face—and sometimes not even second to that—are the hands for expressing emotions according to Miss Negri. She asserts that one can say much with the hands alone in a language which everyone understands, for all have hands and all know how the hands react to emotions.

Miss Negri started using her hands extensively in her first day's work in the picture.

"Blind Hearts" Filmed Amid Exciting Adventures on Whaler in Bering Straits

"Snow Stuff" in motion pictures, signifying productions made with a Far Northern locale, has become so frequent as to call for little comment other than on its scenic beauty, for many pictures have been filmed in the most beautiful locations of Canada and the Pacific Northwest.

"Blind Hearts," Hobart Bosworth's latest Associated Producers starring vehicle which opens at the Empress Theatre on Friday, introduces something entirely new and startlingly unique in "snow stuff." "Ice stuff" would be the better term to apply to the Bosworth feature for many of the opening scenes were taken in the Arctic ice fields in the vicinity of Bering Straits, between Siberia and Alaska.

These remarkable scenes, unrivaled in pictorial beauty, were secured during the past winter and entailed the utmost hardships for the five players and other members of the company who made the perilous journey in order to secure them.

A whaling vessel was chartered in Seattle for the expedition and the party started North in search of the most suitable location in which to secure the necessary background. The vessel put in at Juneau, Alaska, and after receiving information that the nearest ice fields were off the Siberian coast, immediately set sail for the Alaskan Islands.

THE SAVING THE FARMER ON THE PACIFIC ROUTE

In putting forward the case for the Pacific Grain Route the Vancouver Sun publishes some very enlightening figures. It establishes that the Vancouver route under present conditions would mean the saving of ten cents a bushel on wheat going to Liverpool.
This is the way it works out, on a Calgary basis. The Calgary rate to Fort William is given at 15½c. per bushel, or by the winter route to St.
John 21c. a bushel; Atlantic ports to Liverpool 12c. a bushel, a total of 47 cents.

As against this the Alberta rate to Vancouver is 15c. per bushel and from Vancouver to Liverpool 22c. a bushel, a total of 37c. as compared with 47c.
It can be seen, therefore, that a reduction in the grain rate to the Coast as is predicted from Ottawa will further enhance the value of the Vancouver route to the Alberta wheat raiser. The injustice of the present rate is evidenced by figures, frequently produced, showing that grain is carried almost twice the distance to Fort William at the same rate as it is carried by the shorter haul to Vancouver. The country at large little realizes what the Pacific route is going to mean ultimately to the prairie producer. It is destined to carry all of the grain from Alberta and probably half of the production of Saskatchewan, and even on present rates it will give tremendous additional revenue to the farmers. A reduction of a further three or four cents a bushel means millions more to our farmers' pockets. That means more money for the farmers to spend at home and abroad. Why opposition should come to this route from any source concerned about the development of the country at large it is hard to understand.

LUNN SURE ALBERTA WHEAT POOL WILL FUNCTION
THIS YEAR

Calgary, Sept. 21.—Barring any unforeseen developments, the Alberta wheat pool will function this year. Arrangements for operating the pool have progressed to such a state that there is no doubt the system will handle the 1923 wheat crop of its members.

This is the gist of a statement made to the Canadian Press on Friday morning by Stephen Lunn, one of the members of the board of trustees, who is in charge of the office here during the absence of H. W. Wood, chairman, and W. J.
Jackson, secretary.

Mr. Lunn, up to noon today had received no word from the pool trustees who are in Winnipeg. He said that he expected word at any time. He was asked if the negotiations at Winnipeg were of such importance that if they did not prove successful, it would mean the abandonment of the pool.

"I don't see why it should," he replied. "Of course, I know why the three trustees went to Winnipeg. There are, you can understand, a number of things which might develop to delay the operation of the pool but at the present there is little likelihood of anything like that happening."

There is nothing to prevent anyone with a little money from ascertaining how banks can lose money. All he has to do is to lend it and try to get it back.

The Ottawa Journal remarks:
"Wheat is down in price, but we haven't heard anybody say it with sorrow."

NEW CASE RECALLS TICHBORNE TRIALS

Almost a half century has elapsed since the Tichborne case reached its climax after having agitated the people of England for seven years and aroused interest throughout the civilized world. Nevertheless, it is recalled by a trial which is now in progress in the London criminal courts, and in which the defendant represents herself as a daughter of the deceased claimant of the Tichborne estates and intimates, rather than asserts, her belief in the validity of his discredited contentions. In this new case, a woman, who ordinarily passed in the name of Mrs. Alexander, who signed, number of letters, and with the name "Theresa Doughty Tichborne," is accused of threatening to kill a prominent London solicitor, Sir George James Graham Lewis.

Baronetcy at Stake

The famous Tichborne case of fifty years ago was a legal battle for possession of a baronetcy and of estates said to have yielded an annual revenue of $100,000. It resulted from the disappearance of Roger Charles Tichborne, heir to the title and the property, in 1854 at the age of 25 years. The young man was educated in France and at St. Peter's College in England, served for three years as an officer in the army and then resolved to travel. For a time his mother received regular communications from him. Suddenly these ceased and all trace of him was lost. It was generally believed that he was drowned when his ship foundered at sea. His mother, however, could not bring herself to accept that belief and advised her son Australia for information regarding him. She received an answer from the man who became the central figure in the litigation which continued from 1867 until 1874. This man claimed to be the lost Sir Roger Tichborne. He was asserted, on the other hand, to be one Arthur Orton, London, who had embarked upon a life of adventure, traveled considerably and finally reached Australia, where he was employed as a cattle drover. This claimant landed in England in 1867, brought action in the Court of Chancery in 1868 to establish his identity, commenced proceedings for the ejectment of the then holders of the Tichborne property in 1871 in the Court of Common Pleas and was finally convicted of perjury in 1874 and declared to be an impostor.

Some Strange Phenomena

The case was an extraordinary one in many ways. The claimant to the Tichborne estates is described as a clumsy, fat man, wholly ignorant of the French language and even unable to write English correctly. Yet he was accepted by Lady Tichborne as her son and identified by many other persons as Roger Tichborne who is described as having been, prior to his disappearance, slender in build, gentlemanly in manner and able to speak and write both French and English. In the litigation the direct testimony was conflicting.
For every witness who was ready to swear that the claimant was Arthur Orton, there was a witness equally prepared to swear he was Roger Tichborne. The claimant's case finally broke down before the weight of circumstantial evidence of a cumulative kind.

The case now before the courts is less important than the earlier one.
It is a woman, who claims to be the daughter of the claimant, to be the defendant and seems to have written a series of letters to prominent men for the purpose of raising money.
In those letters she mentioned Sir Joseph Tichborne, the present baronet, as her "cousin," alleged that he incited her to commit suicide and spoke of her "claims to the Tichborne estates."

Statements Are Denied

The public prosecutor in the Clerkenwell Police Court recently read a number of the letters written to Sir Joseph Tichborne and others.
In one letter to Sir Joseph the woman said, "the suggestion is that I should give up my claim to the Tichborne estates and my name and relationship on the consideration that you give me sufficient income, as I am now 57, and owing to heart trouble cannot earn my own living." This statement the prosecutor described as "pure fiction." In another letter written, it is alleged, to Viscount FitzAlan, Mrs. Alexander was quoted as saying, "It is going to be a fight to a finish between my cousin and myself; I try to see him in his run away like a fox." Another letter to a London firm of so-licitors said: "I have called upon my cousin Joseph at 23 Hertford Street this morning and find they are down at Tichborne Park. I am coming to you at 3 o'clock to-day. If you will give me £50 in cash I will wait until you can arrange with Sir Joseph. If you won't see me or do as I suggest, I shall accept my cousin Joseph Tichborne's offer to pay my debts if I commit suicide and go down to Aldershot and over to Tichborne and shoot myself there."

Other letters spoke rather incoherently of attempts by the writer to commit suicide and of her incarceration in a County Hospital.

One of them expressed the view that "things will straighten out here, perhaps peace will come somehow;
Tichborne's offer to pay my debts if I commit suicide and go down to Aldershot and over to Tichborne and
shoot myself there."

MR. FARMER READ THIS

At a recent Board of Trade Meeting held in the Town Hall Macleod. The subject of a Stocker and Feeder Sale was brought up for discussion and it was thought that the Macleod Agricultural Society ought to handle this matter but I may say that Macleod Agricultural Society is not in a position to handle the situation through lack of funds as quite a large sum of money would have to be expended to do the thing properly and I cannot see any solution out of the difficulty this year as far as holding a Stocker and Feeder Sale, but if I can be of any assistance in bringing the buyer and seller together I shall be only too pleased to do so if any one has stock for sale, and anyone wanting to buy stock, if they will send their names and address to me by phone or letter I will be only too pleased to do my utmost to help both parties without any remuneration, and perhaps next year an organization may be formed whereby they could bring their stock to a suitable place for exhibition. At present writing I have knowledge of a farmer who has a car of mixed Stock for Sale.

I remain yours very truly, Charles Hamersley,
Pres. Macleod Ag. Society.

ever, denied that he had ever offered to pay the defendant's debts if she would take her own life, and Sir Ricard Muir, the prosecuting attorney, opposed the opinion that the most charitable interpretation which could be placed on her conduct was that she was insane.

HOW MANY WIVES HAD FRANCISCO VILLA?

How many wives did Francisco Villa leave to mourn his loss? Or how many did he leave, anyway? So far, four have turned up, each of whom went through a marriage ceremony with him, three of them having children by him. Being these are probably dozens, scores or even hundreds who were forced to become his wifely companions at one time or another. Since the former bandit chief is supposed to have left several millions of dollars, the number of his wives is no mere academic or moral question. It affects the disposition of large sums of money. There are perhaps a dozen or more children who were recognized as his while he lived, and all of these will no doubt put in a claim for a share of his wealth. Mexico, of course, is technically monogamous, and being a Roman Catholic country divorce is not recognized if it is followed by a marriage. The problem will be to find the first wife of Villa, and if she survives, her claim to his estate can be contested only by his children, and not by the other women, though they may have believed that they were legally united to the outlaw.

Married Woman He Pleased

The fact that Villa for years could seize any girl who caught his eye and force her to go through a ceremony with him, even though she knew she was being obliged to commit a crime, is an indication of the way he exercised over a great stretch of Mexico. Ever since the fall of Diaz there has been no authority in Mexico strong enough to bring Villa to account. He did what he pleased, and he pleased him at the moment to do in the sure knowledge that there was no law that could be cited against him.
Curiously enough Villa almost invariably insisted upon going through a marriage ceremony with the women he captured. It is suggested that the strong taint of superstition in him prompted this action. Probably it was because at the time he desired to soothe feminine qualms.
When some new face caught his attention he would turn the current wife out, though almost always he provided well for her in a material way, and if she happened to have borne him a child he would look particularly after its education.
Occasionally, when he was on the run he was unable to lay his hand on the money for a remittance. Two or three of his wives had to go to work to support themselves.

The Chief Claimant

The woman who appears to have the strongest claim to be regarded as the widow of the former bandit is Mrs. Luz Corral Villa of Chihuahua City. She is a rare Mexican type in appearance being golden-haired and blue-eyed. She is well educated and paints and plays the piano. Mrs. Villa reports that she was married by General Villa in 1908, the ceremony being performed by a priest. Before the civil ceremony could follow the groom was captured and taken to Mexico City, but when he returned, a justice of the peace again married them.
Villa built a beautiful home for her and furnished it lavishly. In 1916 when there was trouble along the border, Villa sent his wife to the United States, and in order that she might be allowed to pass without question, furnished her with a letter in which he acknowledged her as his lawful wife. He added that if anyone else thought herself entitled to the same rights, she could make enquiries of the Mexican Government.
This document is a matter of Consular record and is a strong card for Mrs. Luz.

Turned Wife Out

No children were born of this union, but Mrs. Luz says that most of the time she was in the United States she took charge of three of Villa's children whose mothers were unknown to her. In 1920 when she returned to Mexico she had not been in the house long when Villa introduced another "wife," Esther Car-dona. Mrs. Luz refused to receive her and finally Villa was induced to send her away. He sent her only a short distance, however. Shortly afterward a letter reached the Villa home, which the wife opened. She found it was written by Austaberta Renteria, who said that her father suspected Villa of being married and on that account would not permit him to marry his daughter. Another reason why Benor Renteria

SUPPOSE, MR. SPEEDER

Suppose that your child should leave its own yard.
For a romp or in search of a ball, If its mother were busy and had not the time To step out and give it a call; Suppose that some speeder should race down the street—
As though he were taking a dare, And crash the life out of your little child.
Mr. Speeder, do you think you would care?

Suppose that your mother were crossing the street—
Your mother, now feeble and old,
And some reckless driver should knock her aside, Leaving her lifeless and cold;
Could you find an excuse for this careless act?
Would you really think it fair?
Now putting yourself in this fellow's place.
Mr. Speeder, do you think you would care?

Shooting of Hungarian Partridge

In the Bulletin of last week reference was made to dates of the various game seasons. In order that there may be no misunderstanding of the dates for the chicken and partridge seasons, it is pointed out that it is only the Hungarian Partridge that may be shot during the whole month of October, and then only in that part of the province south of Battle River. The open season for Prairie Chickens and Ruffed Grouse, (commonly referred to as Partridge) is for the period between the 15th and 31st of October. The bag limit for Hungarian Partridge is 10 per day. The bag limit for Chicken and Partridge is 10 per day for both classes of bird, not 10 of each.

Confiscation of Land for Taxes

In connection with the announcement two weeks ago that the provincial department of municipal affairs would defer action in taking possession of lands for arrears of taxes until December 1st, and was advising municipal councils to do the same, there is apparently a wrong impression existing that the government had passed an order extending the time for redemption of these lands. This is not the case. The government in respect of lands over which it has jurisdiction, is merely deferring action toward taking possession of the lands until December 1st, and is recommending to municipal councils that they do likewise. Whether similar action is taken in the various municipalities, is entirely a matter for the municipal councils to decide.

Progress in Alberta Dairy Industry

Growth of the dairy industry in Alberta is shown by the figures of increased production covering the four months from May to August of this year. In practically every phase of the industry there has been further development this season. In the butter marketing service conducted by the provincial dairy branch there has been an increase of 30 per cent. in the amount handled in four months, compared with the same period of last year. The amount handled this year has been 697,444 lbs. from eleven creameries compared with 536,195 lbs. from nine creameries in the same month of 1922. The butter grading service has handled 33 per cent. more butter than in the same period last year, this year's figures being 6,631,242 lbs. from 87 creameries, and last year's four months' figures being 4,952,816 lbs. from 49 creameries.

In the cream grading service initiated by the government last year there are now 56 graders employed compared with 41 last year, due to the increase in creameries. For the four months this season, a total of 23,258,495 lbs. of cream has been graded, compared with 19,896,360 lbs. last year in the same period. The percentage of special grade cream was 33.7 compared with 28.8 last year, and the percentage of seconds has been compared with 30.9 last year. The percentage of seconds has been reduced from 30.7 last year to 10.5 this year. There has been a slight reduction in the standard of firsts this year to make the grades of the three western provinces uniform, but this has not materially affected the fact that there has been a steady increase in the percentage of high quality cream.

Since assuming the duty of grading butter for export from Alberta under the new federal regulations, the provincial grading system has graded a total of 856,598 lbs. for export during the four months mentioned. Special shipments of creamy butter to the British market are now being made weekly, in an effort to establish a footing in that market prior to the opening of the New Zealand shipping season.

After Irrigation Lands

According to the irrigation council offices in Lethbridge, great numbers of enquiries from all parts of the world are being received, showing the widespread interest in the cheap lands that are to be obtained on the Lethbridge Northern project and other projects in the south.

Special License for Prince

Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture, last week arranged for a special driving license for the Prince of Wales and his party at the E. P. Ranch, which gives permission for the shooting of chicken and partridge before the season opens on October 15.

Big Party of Visitors

A large party of hotelmen and their wives from American cities visited the province this week on their return journey from New York to Los Angeles. Another important party of visitors last week was that including

Big Land Sale

The well-known Miami farm, near Lethbridge, which has been noted for its successful crop productions for the past ten years or more, has been sold to a colony of Hutterites for $250,000.

Extend Special Rate on Coal

An extension of the special rate on Alberta coal to Ontario, covering 10,000 tons, has been made by the C. N. R. on condition that the shipments are made before October 31. The orders for this coal are being handled by the Ontario Government and it is understood that the bulk of the 10,000 tons is now under order. It has been announced that the regular freight rate of $12.70 ton will go into force again during the grain movement, but it is expected that following the grain movement, the C. N. R. will offer to put into effect a rate of $9 a ton. Great demand for Alberta coal is being recorded from many Ontario points.

Natural Gas Development

Natural gas was made available to the residents of the town of Viking last week, when the gas from the wells of the North-western Utilities was turned into the mains. These are the first wells that will shortly supply Edmonton city with gas.

Resigns From Hail Board

E. H. Macleod, for many years chairman of the municipal hail board of the province, has tendered his resignation on account of ill-health.

Buy Coal Mine Property

It is reported in southern newspapers that the Winnipeg street railway interests have purchased the large and modern coal mining property of the Canada West Coal Company at Taber.

Stocker Show

The Alberta stocker and feeder show and sale will be held at the Alberta stock yards, Calgary, October 9 to 12.

Visitors to Buildings

During the month of August a total of 150 visitors registered at the Parliament Buildings in Edmonton, most of them being from outside the province. To date in September nearly 100 have registered.

Copied From The Tourist Camp Register

We made circle tour from Elko, B. C. and return via Lake Windermere, Banff, Lake Louise, Calgary, Lethbridge, Macleod and Crownest:—Have still to find a more convenient camp than that of Macleod. Many thanks. —R. Hirst and party from Elko.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Taylor Todd:—"Stopped here again to use your grand electric range to get supper, having made the grand circle tour, Banff and Lake Louise. (We were here on Sept. 20th) We enjoyed the trip very much in spite of sickness of Mrs. Todd caused by jolting of the terrible 75 miles of road from Fort Steele to Windermere and a fine three days rain, snow storm at Lake Louise. It is grand around here and say the Banff Windermere road is grand. Many thanks for the range once more. We are on our way to Lethbridge and home to Indianapolis via Minneapolis.

Wm. Walkden and children:—"Camp approved as a long day's run. Ideal place to camp. We thank you.

From Spokane, Wash:—"On our way to Shaunavon. Surely enjoyed this camping place, especially the electric stove which is some class. With many thanks, Jas. A. Johnston and party.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cosman on their return to their home in Spokane from Calgary:—"We are very pleased with your camp and the conveniences.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Conner and son Jack:—"Spent the night at this camp and made breakfast on the electric stove. Very fine indeed and many thanks. Have been to Yellowstone and Glacier Parks. Will see parts of Canada, then motor to Portland, Seattle and then back to the city of sunshine, our home, Los Angeles.

OLD SICILIAN FEUD RAGES IN NEW YORK

Near the Sicilian town of Palermo in 1898 Ignazio Lupo, the proprietor of a small saloon, shot and killed one of his customers, named Salvatore Morello. He escaped the police and fled to New York, where he became notorious as "Lupo the Wolf," head of a gang of Italian criminals. He was tried in absence as is sometimes the custom of Italian courts, and was found guilty and sentenced to a term of imprisonment. Italian law never reached Lupo, and only once did American law hamper his plans; but the murder near Palermo started a feud which has resulted in a score or more of murders in New York since then. Perhaps fifty would be a nearer estimate. A few days ago another chapter was added to the feud when a man named Vincent Salemi was shot by two men from a doorway. They rushed up the stairs dashed across roofs and by using fire escapes and back yards got away. The police do not know who they were. No doubt there are more than a few Italians who know. A few months before, Salemi's brother-in-law was killed by a shot from Italians in a comparatively few months and within five minutes' passing motor.

The "King of Little Italy"

A feed store not far off seemed equally unhealthy, for two proprietors were shot. These two murders were part of a series of eighteen straight which occurred among the walk of the notorious stable. Several of them were connected with the career of Giosue who called himself the "King of Little Italy" and who appears to have been the greatest ruffian after the imprisonment of Lupo. Giosue and his son Luca were murdered by a gang of men in their coffee house, where the "King" himself had seen two of his henchmen shot and killed a short time before by one Zopo, an Italian cripple, who had the hardihood to try and blackmail the ruler. Later on, Zopo himself was hot to death by two others whom Giosue had provided himself with. His bullies received short sentences but Giosue was acquitted, leaving the court with the threat of another Italian in his ears that he would not live long. He survived a few weeks. The only hope of the New York police is that eventually all concerned in the ancient Sicilian feud will be killed. They have no expectation of arresting or convicting any of the murderers.

At the meeting of the Local Council of Women, on Tuesday evening, it was decided to send the following resolutions to the Executive Meeting of the National Council, for transmission to the Government—Whereas, a number of students in high schools failed in their government examinations owing to the present method of requiring a pupil to write on two or three subjects at one sitting in a limited time; and whereas this curtailed a severe and unmerited hardship on both pupil and parent, necessitating the loss of a year in the school of a pupil, and an additional cost of another year's maintenance by the parent; and whereas only bright and clever pupils have sufficient self control to concentrate on one subject until finished to the exclusion of the other subject on the paper—therefore, be it resolved to respectfully submit to the Minister of Education the request in future, only one subject should be the subject of examination in high schools this June there were three different subjects, the examination extending over five different books.

EVACUATE CORFU ON SEPTEMBER 27

End of Italo-Greek Crisis Now in Sight—Janina Murder
Probe Starts

Paris, Sept. 14.—A statement issued by the inter-allied council of ambassadors today said that the Italian government has decided to evacuate Corfu on September 27, the date fixed by the council for the conclusion of the Greek inquiry into the massacre of the Italian members of the Greco-Albanian boundary delimitation mission.

The international commission which will investigate the Janina murders leaves for Albania today under orders to conduct as vigorous an inquiry as possible.

The council of ambassadors is understood to have decided that if on September 27, the day set for the evacuation of Corfu, the commission of inquiry thinks Greece has not done everything in its power to bring the assassins to justice, Italy will receive the deposit of fifty million lire made by Greece under the terms of settlement decided upon by the council.

Text of Note

The text of the note addressed by the council of ambassadors to Greece has been officially communicated to the League of Nations with a covering note expressing the opinion that the situation created by the assassination in Greece of General Tellini and the other members of the Italian commission may be considered to have been regulated in a satisfactory manner.

The text as now made public gives five conditions which Greece must fulfill. The fifth condition says the inter-allied commission of investigation into the assassinations will commence its work on September 17 at Janina and that five days later it will telegraph its first observations. If the culprits are not discovered by that time the commissioners will report the conditions under which they are working, and the ambassador's council will decide from this report whether the fifth condition of its note to Greece of September 8 has been fulfilled.

(This condition was that the arrest and exemplary punishment of the guilty parties should be undertaken with all possible speed.)
"If this condition," says the note, "is not considered to have been fulfilled, as the Italian government has made known its decision to evacuate Corfu in any circumstances on September 27, the date fixed by the council of ambassadors for the termination of the Greek inquiry, the council reserves the right to notify the Greek government of other measures which may be taken by the allied powers in coercion or punishment."

It is estimated that three-fourths of the useless conversations begin with the query "Gotta Match?"

A woman takes religion almost as seriously as a man does politics—but she doesn't swear about it.

GRANUM NEWS

MANY SCHOOLS COMPLETED
GRANUM SCHOOL FAIR

Granum, Sept. 21.—A very successful school fair was held last week, there being an increase, and in the vegetable and floral departments a more attractive number of exhibits than in any preceding fair.
Despite the busy season, and excellent harvesting weather there was a fairly large attendance, which was most gratifying to the local staff, who labored so assiduously to make the event a success. The schools participating were Granum, Balgobinder, Jumbo Valley, Rose Lawn, Cut Bank, Daly Creek, Chinook and Rocky Coulees. The honors were pretty evenly divided between these districts, Granum carrying off the largest number of prizes, and it was conceded that Jumbo Valley again led in the excellence and variety of the agricultural exhibits. Special prizes were offered by the Rocky Coulees W.I. for the pupils securing the largest number of awards.

Principal Hooper of the Claresholm School of Agriculture, with Miss Christine McIntyre of the same staff, again efficiently supervised the judging in the various departments, being assisted by Mr. Morgan, school inspector, Mrs. Slipp and Mr. Cook of Claresholm, Mrs. Hardin, Mrs.
Holmes and Mrs. D. Douglass of Granum.
